LANDING INSTRUCTIONS

No, Hiroshi Toyota isn't doing his morning calisthenics. He is demonstrating how to land after a diving set. The white thing on the left is a volleyball. Mr. Toyota is one of the world's foremost experts at the game and currently the head coach in Japan. Mr. Toyota is one of 30 instructors at the annual Winfield volleyball camp being held at the Okanagan Easter Seal camp, three miles east of Winfield. The first of three session got underway Monday, with 120 junior players taking part. In all, 350 students of the game will participate in the two-week event. (Courier Photo)

Dublin Ponders Ulster Tactics

DUBLIN (CP) — The cabinet meets today to decide how far the Irish Republic can support a campaign of civil disobedience in Northern Ireland without further disrupting relations with Britain.

Today's meeting follows talks Monday between Prime Minister Jack Lynch and his inner cabinet and 16 Northern Ireland opposition members of Parliament who have been urging the civil disobedience campaign.

In a statement Monday night both sides reaffirmed the objective of a united Ireland "by non-violent, political means."

Relations between Lynch and Britain's Prime Minister Edward Heath have been strained since a sharp exchange of telegrams last week, during which Heath told Lynch to "stop meddling" in the affairs of Northern Ireland.

The meeting with the Northern Ireland parliamentarians was seen here as a bid by Lynch to unify the three main opposition movements pledged to peaceful political action in Northern Ireland.

Observers said Lynch may be thinking of supporting the disobedience campaign by making "welfare" payments to people quitting local government posts in the North.

This would explain the presence at the meeting of his finance and social welfare ministers.

In Belfast Prime Minister Brian Faulkner, referring to the Dublin reunification pledge, said "political blackmail" will not separate Northern Ireland from Britain.

"The state of Northern Ireland is not going to be brought down," Faulkner said in a policy statement.

"Neither the United Kingdom government nor the Northern Ireland government will be shaken in their resolve to maintain Northern Ireland as an integral part of the United Kingdom by any campaign—be it outright terrorism or political blackmail."

All U.S. Troops Put On Alert As S. Vietnam Crisis Grows

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. command put the 220,000 American troops in Vietnam on special alert today as the political crisis over South Vietnam's presidential election deepened.

Sources close to President Nguyen Van Thieu said he had rejected Vice-President Nguyen Cao Ky's proposal that they both resign so that a successor could call a new election in which Thieu would have more opposition.

The sources said the president is determined to hold the voting as scheduled on Oct. 3 even if he is the only active candidate.

Anticipating street demonstrations and possibly terrorist attacks, the U.S. command ordered American military personnel to stay out of cities and towns except when on official business and to travel only in official vehicles.

Thieu was believed to have advised U.S. Ambassador Ellis-Isaac Baker of his opposition to Ky's proposal at a meeting Monday night, and there was speculation as to what the United States would do now.

U.S. officials said last week that if Thieu ran unopposed, the U.S. government would reconsider its Vietnam policy, including the aid program.

Thieu once again became the only active candidate when Ky announced Monday that he would not campaign—despite having been reinstated on the ballot by the Supreme Court—because he believed Thieu was rigging the election.

Ky proposed that he and the president resign simultaneously, that the chairman of the Senate become interim president, and that Thieu arrange a new election within 90 days.

Berliners Look Forward Today To Visits And Happier Times

BERLIN (Reuters) — Two million West Berliners looked forward today to an end to years of tension and uncertainty following the draft agreement on the city reached by the four victorious powers in the Second World War.

The ambassadors of the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France linked arms as they walked out into a garden in a West Berlin suburb Monday to announce a successful end to their 18 months of negotiations on the divided city.

In Bonn, Foreign Minister Walter Scheel of West Germany said in a television interview West Berliners could "breathe easier" as a result of the agreement.

Details have yet to be officially announced, but terms revealed by informed sources in Bonn indicate that under a final settlement isolated West Berliners should be able to travel freely to and from the city and once more into East Berlin and East Germany.

JUDGE SENSITIVE TO HOT PANTS

PALERMO, Sicily (Reuters) — A pretty blonde Danish school teacher, charged with indecency for wearing hot pants, appeared in court Tuesday wearing a modest dress and swore she will not wear the thigh-revealing garb or miniskirts while she remains here.

Ten days ago when he saw Lise Wittrock, 27, swaying down the street in her hot pants, Magistrate Vincenzo Salermi, 52, was outraged.

"I could see her buttocks," said Salermi, adding: "I am very sensitive to the morale welfare of the citizenry."

He ordered police to charge Miss Wittrock with public indecency.

NFU President Sees A 'Joke'

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP) — Hearing of a charge of conspiracy to intimidate against Roy Atkinson, president of the National Farmers Union, was adjourned until Aug. 31 when the Saskatoon organizer appeared in court in Summerside today.

Outside the courtroom, into which about 100 spectators were jammed to watch his appearance, Mr. Atkinson indicated it was doubtful the NFU would agree to a proposal Monday by Premier Alex Campbell to resolve a dispute between the government and island farmers.

"The premier's proposal is a 'joke' the premier's call for a joint meeting between government officials and representatives of both the NFU and the Prince Edward Island Federation of Agriculture."

"It shows what kind of tricky politics he likes to play to get the focus off the major issues... and I'm sure many federation members will feel injured by his attempt to use them."

Trading was moderately active.

Bon Waks

Two returns to London!

Dollar Drops

LONDON (AP) — The U.S. dollar weakened sharply in Western European foreign exchange markets today but showed increased strength in Tokyo, as the Japanese government again refused to raise the value of its money alone.

European dealers reported signs of big money operators entering the market to unload U.S. dollars and a downward trend for the American money appeared to be developing.

But a dollar-buying spree developed in Tokyo and the Bank of Japan was forced to shell out an estimated $110 million to satisfy demand.

Japan's acting foreign minister, Toshio Kimura, meanwhile, ruled out a unilateral increase in the value of the yen. He told a news conference any change should come as a result of talks among leading countries directly involved in the present monetary crisis.

In Europe, the dollar declined in relation to the British pound, the French franc, the Swiss and Belgian francs, the Italian lire and the Dutch guilder.

WORLD NEWS IN A MINUTE

NDP's View

OTTAWA (CP) — Andrew Brewin, defence critic for the New Democratic Party, today welcomed the government's decision to dismantle the Bomarc anti-missile system. But he voiced his party's disagreement with the decision announced in the white paper on defence to maintain Canada's fighter-interceptor contribution to NORAD.

ECM Raps U.S.

GENEVA (Reuters) — The European Common Market criticized the United States today for the 10-per-cent supplementary duty on imports announced by President Nixon.

RCMP Move In

TORONTO (CP) — The federal superintendent of bankruptcy has ordered the RCMP into the bankruptcy investigation of the Toronto brokerage firm of Malone Lynch Securities Ltd. J. B. Bruneau said the RCMP has been asked to "conduct an investigation to determine if offences have been committed, the causes of the bankruptcy and the disposition of the firm's assets."

To Try Again

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian officials will make another pitch for a Canadian exemption from United States import surcharges when they meet American officials in Washington Thursday. Finance Minister E. J. Benson indicated today.

Ottawa Retires Bomarc Force

WHITE PAPER HIGHLIGHTS PRESENTED IN BRIEF FORM

OTTAWA (CP) — Highlights of the white paper on defence: Canada will retire its two squadrons of Bomarc anti-aircraft missiles but will continue use of nuclear-equipped interceptor aircraft for North American defence.

No further reductions are planned in Canadian NATO forces.

Defence budget freeze will be ended in 1972-73, one year ahead of schedule.

Forces strength will be 83,000 at April 1, 1973, an increase of 1,000 over earlier projects.

Defence budget to remain within about one per cent of the present $1.8 billion ceiling for 1972-73.

Adequate forces will be provided to meet non-military challenges to Canadian sovereignty, such as pollution control, policing of territorial seas and fishing zones.

There is a need to anticipate that civil emergencies, such as the October crisis in Quebec, may require the forces to come to the aid of the civil power.

The 2,800-man land force in Europe will retire its heavy

Centurion tanks in favor of air portable fire-support vehicles, which will also be used in Canada.

The three squadrons of CF-104 aircraft in Europe will all take on a conventional attack role. One now has a reconnaissance role and two have nuclear strike missions.

Two squadrons of CF-5 close-support aircraft, based in Canada, will be available to fly to NATO's northern flank in emergency, refuelling from 707 tankers in flight.

The commitment to fly a battalion group to Norway or Denmark in a crisis will be retained, along with the promise to send the balance of an air-sea transportable combat group from Canada during a period of weeks.

The NATO maritime role will be continued.

A battalion group will continue on standby for service with UN peacekeeping forces.

U.S. Strategic Air Command bombers will continue to get permission to fly over Canada in emergencies and for training.

SAC tankers will continue to refuel at Goose Bay.

Anti-Aircraft Missiles Obsolete Says Minister

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada will get rid of its two squadrons of nuclear-equipped Bomarc anti-aircraft missiles, a defence white paper revealed today.

Defence Minister Donald Macdonald, at a news conference called to coincide with publication of the policy document, described the once-controversial missiles as "obsolete."

However, he admitted that U.S. Defence Secretary Melvin Laird and his advisers, when informed of Canada's decision to liquidate this part of its contribution to North American air defence, were "not enthusiastic."

They wanted Canada to maintain the Bomarc, stationed at North Bay, Ont., and La Macaza, Que., Mr. Macdonald said.

At the same time the minister said Canada has turned down a North American Air Defence Command request that North Bay be designated as an alternative NORAD headquarters in case the main headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo., is knocked out by a nuclear missile.

The Canadian government has had the request under consideration for several years. North Bay already is a key communications centre in the NORAD anti-bomber command and control system.

The white paper makes clear, however, that Canada will maintain its share of nuclear-equipped interceptor aircraft to continental defence, and will still allow Strategic Air Command refuelling tankers to make use of facilities at Goose Bay, Labrador.

It also will continue to permit SAC bombers to fly over Canada on airborne alert in times of crisis, "as determined by the government."

New Arms For Men In Europe

Dealing with equipment, the white paper says Canadian forces in Germany will no longer operate in the heavy tank role once the present, aging fleet of Centurions goes out of service.

The Centurion will be replaced by a light, air transportable tank, possibly the British Scorpion, though Mr. Macdonald said he is keeping his options open as to just which machine to purchase.

No decision has been reached on whether to buy a new maritime patrol aircraft, or alternatively, to update the present, somewhat long-in-the-tooth Argus with a new avionics system.

Mr. Macdonald said he will decide this question within a year.

No further cuts are planned in Canada's military contribution to NATO.

LIFT BUDGET FREEZE The defence budget will be unfrozen a year ahead of schedule, in the 1972-73 fiscal year, and projected strength of the forces at April, 1973, will be increased by 1,000.

The interceptor force could also discourage the Soviets from rebuilding a strong bomber force.

By keeping a number of interceptors in the air all the time, and scrambling the rest in emergency, they can be kept relatively invulnerable to attack.

Interceptors will also be needed for surveillance, both in peacetime and in case of war.

The white paper offers no hint of what the government will do about NORAD when the defence agreement with the U.S. comes up for renegotiation in 1973.

"The policy of the government at that time with respect to the agreement and the interceptor force posture required will depend upon the strategic situation extant, including progress in SALT (Strategic Arms Limitation Talks)."

The document says no "substantial sums" will be spent on new equipment for North American defence against bombers in future.

"Unless the strategic situation changes, the government intends to update its contribution to the active anti-bomber defences of North America only to the extent that this is required for the general control of Canadian airspace."

Ontario Search Held For Plane

There were still no reports at noon from searchers for four people missing in a Cessna 182. The plane had been flying from Manfield, Ohio, to Toronto, when a violent storm struck southern Ontario Sunday. Two people died in the storm which caused millions of dollars worth of damage.

The storm front thrashed through tobacco fields west of Hamilton and more than 100 hail-insurance adjusters were walking through the fields Monday trying to assess the damage. In many cases, the plants were stripped.

U.K. Aircraft Sold To China

LONDON (AP) — Hawker Siddeley, the British plane makers, announced today they have signed a contract to supply China with six Trident 2E jet passenger planes during the next two years.

HANDCUFFED, and stripped, prisoners at San Quentin lie in a prison yard as a search is conducted in the cell blocks for weapons believed smuggled in for Monday's jail break bid. Armed guards stand by keeping the men under surveillance.

Short Takes

Looking at the results of the Pan-Am games in which most of the medals won by Canadians were won by our girls, one is prompted to sing "Thank Heaven For Little Girls."

Unless order and calm are restored soon there will be fewer jobs and fewer homes in Northern Ireland. Bombed factories, bombed shops and damaged homes will not be soon replaced. Politically, nothing will have been achieved; and, physically, many fewer people will survive unscathed. Nor will the damage be confined to the North; the crisis can leave all Ireland weaker and poorer. Unjust and hurtful though it may be, the name of all Ireland will have a very bad odor.

The British troops in Northern Ireland bear an appalling burden. And deserve our sympathy. The restraint of the soldiers who have been pelted with bricks and bottles, shot at by unseen gunmen, and reviled by both sides, is superhuman. That there have been any misjudgments by the soldiers is regrettable; that there have been so few is amazing. The British troops are carrying out a difficult and thankless task, and generally doing it well. The situation will have to be stuck out. There is no other way.

The American Automobile Association has recently published figures showing that the average couple travelling on vacation by car spends approximately $46 a day which breaks down as follows: meals and snacks, $16; accommodation, $17; car expenses, $9; tips and miscellaneous purchases, $4.

Early in July, George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO group of unions in the United States, said that direct wage and price controls were the only answer to U.S. economic troubles. When President Nixon instituted those controls last weekend, Mr.

Meany reversed his position and said they were "discriminatory" against labor. Just how inconsistent can one get? Obviously a month ago he was playing politics and Mr. Nixon's move caught him with his proverbial pants down, so he had to run for cover.

So Dr. Wallace has left the Social Credit party and will sit as an independent. But Premier Bennett wishes it had been the minister of health and welfare, Mr. Lofmark, who had resigned.

Yale scientists says there's evidence that man and the ape began evolving along separate lines between 12 and 14 million years ago. There's evidence on our streets that some individuals still have some evolving to do.

Our downtown scout says he is fed up with hearing: "Hot enough for you?", but he is too limp from the heat to think of a snappy reply.

Having watched the political arena for a long time now, I have evolved a little theory of my own: the electorate normally vote not so much in favor of one party as against another. Very few people actually believe in or approve the party for which they vote. Their vote, in fact, is normally a negative vote, a vote to exclude from power whichever party is deemed most disastrous. While people, being different, positively want different things, and so can never be satisfied by all voting for the same things, when something is being done, or offered to them, that they do not want, they can all agree in rejecting it. In this province, the Bennett administration has usually been elected by voters who could not approve of the NDP, rather than voters who approved of the Social Credit party. If you tell me that the same principle may well operate in reverse at some future time, I should not dissent from that.

Abandoned Argument

(Victoria Times)

The Social Credit government's recent move to give Health Minister Lofmark the autocratic power to decide whether a doctor should have the right to use public hospital facilities or not was followed by a variety of explanations for the action. It was designed to prevent hospital boards exercising the authority of a clique to keep deserving doctors from using hospitals; alternatively, it was intended to force doctors to disperse their services into communities in the province which, it was claimed, were less abundantly served than the Vancouver, Victoria and Kelowna areas.

Among "reasons" not put out by government spokesmen was that which claimed the government's power was intended to place a political grip on hospital use by doctors—an iniquitous situation which cannot be divorced from such a power grab by government.

But now Premier Bennett, speaking in Dawson Creek, has apparently abandoned the argument that some centres in the province were deficient in doctors' services. He has also apparently abandoned the victims of this alleged injustice—which has been convincingly denied by the medical profession with statistics—by offering to let doctors have "full freedom" to practise where they like if, as a body, they will keep down the total of medical costs for the province.

This is about as cynical a switcheroo as Mr. Bennett has pulled in a career replete with artful political manoeuvres. Either there is a deliberate intention by government ministers to belaud the medical issue with contradictory or poorly defined statements, or they are working in conflict with each other through ignorance or internal disagreement. In either case the public of British Columbia is being treated to a very shabby display of political juggling with an issue of vital importance and a principle of professional freedom.

Mr. Bennett's latest effort, reported by the Province, of Vancouver, caps them all. The noble declarations go by the board, the pious concern for the public's supply of doctors is dropped, if only the doctors of the province will undertake to keep the medical costs—never mind individual cases—down in order to get the government off the hook of rising expenses.

The sequence is a shameful one: Impose a legislated injustice on the medical profession and the public it serves, then bargain to lift it in return for a financial undertaking by the doctors. That is barefaced, unprincipled manipulation in the name of offering doctors freedom of choice. How much farther can this decaying regime go?

Mr. Bennett's latest effort, reported by the Province, of Vancouver, caps them all. The noble declarations go by the board, the pious concern for the public's supply of doctors is dropped, if only the doctors of the province will undertake to keep the medical costs—never mind individual cases—down in order to get the government off the hook of rising expenses.

BYGONE DAYS

(From Courier Files)

10 YEARS AGO

August 1961

Miss Linda Brenda Ghezzi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Ghezzi, returned home after spending fourteen months travelling and studying in Europe, at the University of Florence, Italy, and at the Sorbonne in Paris. Miss Ghezzi has accepted a position with the Kelowna school board for the coming year.

20 YEARS AGO

August 1951

The Rutland Atlantea hammered the Revelstoke Spikes 21-6 in the second game of the B.C. Interior League semifinals, and now advance into the finals against the Kamloops CYO. Hugh Stewart was credited with the win. Bob Campbell got 3 hits in 6 trips to the plate. Wanless and Natto scored five runs each.

IT HAPPENED IN CANADA

Alberta Tory Hopeful Located Between Prospect And Premier

CALGARY (CP) — Peter Loughheed lives between Prospect Avenue and Premier Way, which happens to be about where he's at in his political career.

Mr. Loughheed is the 42-year-old leader of the Progressive Conservative party in Alberta, which has high hopes of tumbling Social Credit from power in the Aug. 30 provincial election.

Others have had the same objective during the last 36 years but few have matched Mr. Loughheed's fierce determination.

He has cross-examined government programs in a relentless effort to convince the people that Social Credit has become stale and complacent and can no longer respond to the needs of the province.

Lithe, muscular, good-looking and a lawyer by profession, he has obviously swayed the electorate. The Conservatives had 10 seats in the last legislature, 10 more than they had when Mr. Loughheed became leader in March, 1965.

Mr. Loughheed, grandson of Alberta's first Conservative federal cabinet minister, has visited almost every town in the province during the last six years to promote the Tory cause.

CHANCE TO WIN

"When I went into this, I said I'd be in it for three elections.

"At first I didn't think we had any chance of winning the second one, but now I think we do.

"For the first time in decades the outcome is in doubt." The big break the Conservatives were looking for came in September, 1968, when Premier E. C. Manning retired.

"It's new ball game for Alberta politics," said Mr. Loughheed.

CANADA'S STORY

Canadian Steamship Sailed Atlantic First

By BOB BOWMAN

Transatlantic steamship service became established in 1840 when the Cunard liner Uncle Sam made the trip from Liverpool to Halifax in 14 days. The founder of the famous line was Nova Scotian Samuel Cunard who made a fortune in lumber and sailing ships and then went to live in Britain.

However, the first ship to cross the North Atlantic entirely under steam power, was the Royal William built at Quebec in 1830. The ship was intended to provide a service between Quebec and Halifax but this did not turn out to be profitable.

Her first trip began on Aug. 24, 1831. Then Royal William operated from Canadian ports to Boston and was the first British steamship to enter a United States port.

Unfortunately this service also lost money and poor Royal William was described as a "smoke-belching, paddle-wheeling, clanking steam kettle." The label probably came from a die-hard who believed in sails alone, and there were a great many of them.

Eventually, Royal William was sold to British interests and that was when she earned the distinction of being the first ship to cross the North Atlantic by steam.

She left Picton, N.S., in 1833 after picking up enough coal for the Atlantic crossing and arrived at London 25 days later. Later, she was converted into a warship and sold to Spain.

The Americans claim that the Savannah was the first steamship to cross the Atlantic, but she used sails as well as steam.

OTHER AUG. 24 EVENTS:
1791—Canada was divided into Lower and Upper provinces effective Dec. 26.

1852—Nanaimo, B.C. was established by Gov. Douglas as a base for coal.

1870—Troops led by Colonel Wolesey (later Lord Wolesey of Nile fame) arrived at Fort Garry from Toronto.

1885—Northwest Territories census showed a population of 22,000; Saskatchewan 10,700; Alberta 15,500.

1923—More than 12,000 coal miners from Alberta and British Columbia came to agreement with operators after strike that began in March, 1922.

1926—Famous Okanagan sea monster was named "Ogopogo" by Vancouver "Province."

1943—Churchill-Roosevelt conference ended at Quebec.

Grand Tour Of Europe Now Grim For Many Youngsters

Anna Laughlin of the Montreal bureau of The Canadian Press has completed a two-week tour of five European countries to report first-hand on what young Canadians hitch-hiking through Europe this summer faced. In this story she tells of a growing problem—youths finding themselves stranded after a summer of fun.

AMSTERDAM (CP) — "Passport, plane ticket and these beads—that's really all I've got going for me," said 19-year-old Tom Morton of Vancouver.

After three months hitch-hiking through Europe on a meagre $250, he was stringing and selling necklaces on the street to survive the two weeks until his charter flight returns to Canada.

He is one of many. Young travellers now are converging on the major European jumping-off points, many without money to wait out fixed departure dates, some without the means to get home at all.

"A lot of young people have been gambling this summer," said a spokesman for KLM Royal Dutch Airlines.

He said a "good proportion" of return tickets reported lost were more likely sold to finance travel on the Continent.

"They come back to Amsterdam and other cities with no ticket and no money and they're stuck," he said.

The most airlines can do is reimburse the traveller if no one else uses the ticket—but only after three months.

BIG HEADACHE
A lost charter ticket is an even bigger headache as most charter organizations originating flights from North America have no agent for travellers to contact in Europe.

Young people handing out cards offering cheap one-way charter flights back to Canada and the United States abound, but so do the warnings.

"Young people desperate to get home give their last cent to what often turns out to be a fly-by-night operation," said an agent at American Express in Amsterdam.

Canadian embassies and consulates limit financial assistance, except in emergencies such as illness, to collect cables to relatives or friends of young people who post vigils outside a Canadian Express office awaiting funds.

"People come in here almost expecting we're the Bank of Canada," said Jean Badley, in charge of the service for distressed Canadians at Canada House in London.

"If they haven't received their income tax return they think they can get a loan on money they say the government owes them," she said.

HELPS FINANCIALLY
Since the beginning of August, Miss Badley has assisted 30 people financially. Almost as many requests daily are expected as the summer draws to a close.

"But if they don't give us a name to contact, there's nothing we can do," she said.

That leaves many to their own devices: begging, street-singing or drug dealing—all high-risk occupations in Amsterdam.

"Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors through Him that loved us," Romans 8:37.

Trust helps us to rise above every trial. "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart and lean not to thine own understanding, in all the ways acknowledge Him and He will direct thy paths."

AT CRICKET TOO:
LONDON (CP) — It's not often that an heir to the British throne clowns around in public—and at a cricket match, of all occasions.

But then, as Britons are fast discovering, Prince Charles is no conventional prince. So even cricket buffs had a chuckle when the Queen's son turned up at a recent match correctly garbed in leg-pads and carrying his bat—seated astride a horse he had encountered on his way to the pitch.

Charles at 22 has shed his shy, studious image of a few years back. Nowadays he has almost a daredevil air—a touch of James Bond garb—granted by a comedian's talent he loves to indulge at unexpected moments.

Earlier this year he flattered a formally-attired 11-year-old by turning up in a wrinkled old sport jacket over his white tie and tails. Joke over, he switched to a tailcoat for the rest of the evening.

Later, after joining an RAF training establishment, he gave out a mock order which had all the cadets shoving in their service-issue shoes to the quartermaster for investigation of a supposed fault in their design.

Charles's penchant for practical jokes is emerging along with a streak of surprising physical toughness. Not long ago, the delicate-looking prince seemed more at home since a recent police crackdown.

Others, like Tom Morton, haunt the weekly flea markets with wares ranging from cameras, film, jewelry and the last packets of American cigarettes bought by the carton at duty-free shops in more affluent times.

Tom specializes in goulime beads, once used as currency in the African slave trade, now twisted into leather-thong necklaces and bracelets that he sells for about $1.50.

"I make a few dollars a day, enough to buy bread, milk and fruit," he said.

He sleeps in Vondelpark, turned over to young travellers this summer by the city of Amsterdam. Volunteer organizations often supply free soup and coffee to the park's current 1,300 residents.

"I'll get by," he said. Rumors persist that at least some Canadian travellers get by through selling their Canadian passports for fees said to reach $700 on the black market.

"These rumors make the rounds," said Miss Badley, "but how much truth is involved is another matter."

A new passport is issued within three weeks, or sooner in urgent situations, if the person reporting the loss can produce a birth certificate or Canadian citizenship papers.

No Canadian officials approached on the subject attached much credibility to stories of passport sales.

Passport offices, however, are besieged daily.

Many young people seem particularly careless with passports," said Miss Badley. "Some leave them in their backpacks in the hostels or girls forget their purses in cars when hitch hiking."

"They don't seem to realize just how important a passport is."

Red Infiltration In Arab Lands
Mixture Of Success And Failure

CAIRO (AP) — Communist infiltration in the Arab world is a mixture of success and failure. It has given the Russians a big voice in the area, but it hasn't done the Arab Communists any good.

For 15 years the Soviet Union has been the main supplier of arms to many Arab states. Thousands of Soviet technicians, army officers and diplomats roam about freely in some Arab countries.

The Soviets have undertaken mammoth construction schemes in Egypt and Syria. Egypt's billion-dollar Aswan High Dam, its near-billion-dollar iron-and-steel project at Helwan are examples.

The Soviets have gained strong footholds in the Middle East and at the northern gates of the African continent. But there is a growing trend in the Middle East toward rejecting local Communists, their ideology as well as their physical presence.

The 74-hour Communist coup in Sudan last month aroused so much resentment in Egypt and Libya that vigorous efforts were quickly mobilized to quench it.

After Maj.-Gen. Jaafar el-Nimeiri was restored to power, he ordered a ruthless hunt for all Communists in his country.

FAILURE WEAKENS
Sudan's Communist party, although officially banned, counted more than 20,000 followers and was considered the largest and best organized in Africa and the Middle East. The failure of the coup has reduced its strength substantially.

El-Nimeiri's crackdown on the Communists and his execution of the Sudanese party's top leaders angered Moscow, which attacked el-Nimeiri violently in its newspapers. El-Nimeiri expelled Soviet and Bulgarian diplomats from his country, recalled his ambassador to the two Communist countries and sent his defence minister to Peking to discuss economic and military aid, previously supplied by Moscow.

At the onset of the coup, the Soviet ambassador to Egypt, Vladimir Vinogradov, was reported to have called on President Anwar Sadat and urged him to support the rebels. Sadat is said to have reacted angrily, telling the ambassador he could never do so.

Hours later, Boris Ponomarev, a secretary of the Soviet Communist party, met Sadat in Cairo and again appealed for support for the coup. Informed sources say Sadat replied that communism could never be accepted in the Arab world, and he would fight it unflinchingly.

Because its stakes in the Arab world are high, the Soviet Union seems to have toned down attacks on el-Nimeiri and pressure on Sadat, and decided to drift with the Arab currents for the moment. Experienced observers of Communist trends in the Middle East say Moscow has always realized the futility of trying to implant communism in the Arab mentality, which is basically religious and conventional.

Lakeshore Home Is Scene Of Impressive Wedding

The lakeshore home of the bride's parents was the setting of an impressive service on Aug. 14th at 2 p.m. when family and close friends gathered for the exchange of marriage vows between Brenda Maureen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Briesse of Casa Loma, and Robert John, son of Dr. and Mrs. T. de Roos of New Westminster.

The ceremony was officiated by Dr. E. H. Birdsall of Kelowna, with Mrs. Doreen Belieu as organist. During the service the bride's brother, Richard Briesse, of Nanaimo, Ont., read an excerpt from "The Prophet", and just prior to the signing of the register the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Richard Briesse, sang "You Have Only Just Begun". The matching wedding rings were placed on the family Bible during the service.

The groom was attended by his brother, Thomas de Roos Jr., of New Westminster. The bride was given in marriage by her father, and for her wedding she chose a full-length empire style gown in white georgette over taffeta, trimmed with nylon re-embroidered lace appliques around scooped neckline, sleeves and hem of dress. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and white freesia, with matching flowers arranged in her hair—carrying out the pink and white theme of the wedding.

For something old the bride wore her grandmother's diamond and pearl ring. She was attended by her sister-in-law, who wore a full-length floral gown in shades of coral, blue and white. White daisies were worn in her hair, harmonizing with her bouquet.

IN THE GARDEN

A garden reception followed where the bride's mother received the guests wearing a floor length gown in tones of mauve, purple and turquoise. Accessories were purple, and a corsage was a pale mauve orchid.

The groom's mother wore a floor length centennial gown in deep shades of mauve and gold. Gold accessories were worn, complemented with a golden orchid.

Edward Mullins of New Westminster, uncle of the bride, was master of ceremonies and the toast to the bride was given by Jack Allan, a life-long friend of the bride. Several telegrams were read, including some from England and Africa.

UNCLE'S SWORD

The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake which had been made by the bride, and was decorated with dainty pink streamers and a miniature of the bride's bouquet.

White candles in silver candelabra completed the table. The bride and groom cut the cake with a dress sword formerly owned by the bride's late uncle.

Out of town guests attending the wedding ceremony were from New Westminster, Vancouver, Seattle, Burnaby, Nanaimo and Nanapan, Ont. A special guest was the groom's cousin, Josee de Glide, who had come from The Hague, Holland, for the occasion.

Before leaving on their honeymoon, which will be spent sailing up the British Columbia coast, the bride changed into a mauve and purple hot-pant dress, with white accessories and white orchid corsage. The couple will reside in Vancouver.

HITHER and YON

Nancy Milne has returned to her home in Fort McMurray, Alta., after spending an enjoyable two-week holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hautalauma of Mountain Avenue.

Marvin Griffin of Pine Point, N.W.T., accompanied by several friends enjoyed an Okanagan holiday with his grandmother, Mrs. A. Griffin of Bertram Street. The boys took some peaches back with them.

Paul and Otto Leinemann were hosts for a reunion in the East Kelowna hall, with honored guests being their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Josef Leinemann of Otterberg, Germany, who are presently enjoying their holidays here.

Also at the reunion were Mr. and Mrs. Lindner; Ludwig Schell and his son, Mrs. Oppermann, Mrs. Schmidt, Mrs. V. Sali, all from West Germany. Along with a large group of local residents the honored guests enjoyed a western styled supper in the East Kelowna hall, with entertainment by the Kelowna Lieder Tafel mixed choir. Dancing followed until 1 a.m.

Sunday was a special day for Mrs. A. Polasek, Mrs. H. Amundrud and Mrs. J. Weisbeck, all members of the immaculate Conception parish council of the Catholic Women's League. At 8:30 a.m. mass the Rev. R. D. Anderson presented them with 25-year membership scrolls. This was the first time scrolls of this kind were presented in this parish.

Heidi Kuehn, daughter of Mrs. Harriette Kuehn, Lawrence Avenue, is a guest of Dr. and Mrs. Ken Appleby of Burnaby. During her visit Heidi will attend the PNE in Vancouver.

Visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Grant Faulkner of Alta Vista include their daughter Diane of Barrhead, Alta., who was accompanied by their niece Sheryl Sanderman, also of Barrhead, Alta., and from Edmonton is the nephew, Sterling Sanderman and Mrs. Sanderman.

ANN LANDERS

Dependency On Others Breeds Hostility

Dear Ann Landers: I'd like your opinion of a cartoon I got in the mail this morning. It pictures a couple of shaggy-haired hippies—one is a boy and one is a girl but they look very much alike in their dirty jeans, love beads, granny glasses, sandals and sunglasses. The girl is saying to the guy, "I gotta go pick up my unemployment check. Then I'll drop in at the university to see what's holding up my federal grant. Meanwhile why don't you stop by the free clinic and check your x-rays and pick up my new glasses at the health center? If you have time, go by the welfare department and try to get an increase. I'll meet you at 5 p.m. in front of the Federal building for the mass demonstration against the rotten establishment."

This cartoon is more than a laugh. It tells a lot about what's wrong with our society. Do you have the guts to print this and comment?—Land Of Milk And Honey

Dear Honey: The underlying message comes through loud and clear. I've said it before and I'll say it again, "Dependency breeds hostility."

Dear Ann Landers: This is the same old story. You're probably bored to pieces with it. Married 35 years. Children grown. Grandchildren adorable. I should be happy as a meadow-lark, but I'm not. My husband is having an affair with his secretary who is 20 years younger. She's plain looking and devoid of personality. In her defence, however, I must say, if I sat in the same room with a wax dummy eight hours a day, five days a week he'd probably begin to look good to me, too. (The experts call this Law of Proximity.)

My husband denies there is anything going on but I know he's covering up. I've offered him a separation but he says I am being ridiculous. What should I do? I've seen marriages between people our age break up and nobody is happier. The man loses the respect of his

DRUG CONCERN

BEWDLEY, Ont. (CP) — About 50 residents of this small community, including parents and public school-age children, recently attended a meeting to hear experts from the Peterborough Addiction Research Institute talk about the drug abuse problem. The meeting was organized by two mothers, Gayle Bannister and Jackie Muzzuca, who felt there was cause for concern about drug use among the village's young people.

Grandmother's Rosary Is Part Of Nuptial Theme

Aline Marie Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Arnold Ross of Kelowna, carried her grandmother's rosary for her Aug. 14 marriage to John Bruce Collinson, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Collinson also of Kelowna.

Borrowed earrings from her mother, a blue garter and her new gown completed the traditional sentiment for the ceremony conducted by Rev. R. D. Anderson.

Immaculate Conception Roman Catholic church was decked with gladioli for the late afternoon ceremony and soloist Art Henshaw, accompanied by Mrs. Pat Suschuk of Kelowna sang You'll Never Walk Alone, The Rosary, Ave Maria, Bless This House.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a gown of French lace, made by her mother. The Victorian styled gown which featured long puffed sleeves, fell into a train at the back. A headress formed of lily of the valley held a floor-length net veil and she carried a bouquet with the rosary.

IDENTICAL GOWNS
Mrs. Gordon Bennett of Kelowna served as matron of honor and junior bridesmaid was Deborah Anne Ross of Kelowna, Judith Palandt of Manitoba, also served as a bridesmaid. They were gowned in identical ensembles of purple flowered lace over deep purple lining. Princess lines were chosen for the Victorian styled dresses and they carried carnations tipped with purple.

Best man was Gordon Bennett of Kelowna and ushers were Ron Pyle, also of Kelowna and Bill Ross of Williams Lake.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN BRUCE COLLINSON (Ralph Hoy Photo)

The bride's mother chose a hot pink fortel gown for her daughter's wedding and the groom's mother wore a pale blue lace over blue taffeta gown. Corsages of carnations completed both ensembles. A three-tiered wedding cake made by the bride's mother centred the bride's table at the reception which followed in the Legion hall. Doves surrounded by bells and flowers topped the cake which was flanked with wedding candles.

Dobbie Graf was in charge of the guest book and Greg Langham proposed the toast to the bride, with Gordon Bennett toasting the bridal attendants.

Before leaving on a honeymoon at Harrison Hot Springs the bride donned a bright yellow jersey dress with white accessories. A pearl drop, the gift from the groom, was her only adornment.

They will reside at 1240 Glenmore Drive, Kelowna. Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pauch, Manitoba; Mr. and Mrs. Barry Ashton, Bob Collinson, Elaine Roth, Mr. and Mrs. J. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Gowan, all of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Claxton, and Sergeant and Mrs. Joe Collinson, all of Edmonton; Judy Palandt, Manitoba; Bill Ross, Williams Lake; Mrs. Grafton, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. B. Kirkwood, Mr. and Mrs. D. Loken and Mr. and Mrs. N. Maclean, Port Alberni.

Italian Designers Push Pants In Fall-Winter Collections

ROME (AP) — Active, working women are likely to wear trousers almost as much as men.

That was the idea promoted by most Italian high-fashion designers at showings of their fall-winter collections here.

For work, play or rest, they have shown a vast variety of pants that range from masculine suits to billowing evening trousers, with knickerbockers, Bermudas, gardeners' overalls and 18th-century culottes thrown in for fun.

Princess Irene Galitzine designed many of her clothes for women she described as "top executive career girls" who work and dress like men.

Only in the use of colors did her strictly tailored outfits differ from men's wear. A grey flannel or dark pinstriped suit was usually coupled with a vivid red shirt and brilliant green vest.

Galitzine relieved the severity of her hats with colors—green on the outside with a blue reverse.

She sometimes let herself go with furs to make short black tunics long-haired and silky.

Tiziani designed a series of pants that changed in length and shape according to the time of day.

For rough weather he had thick knickerbockers and shirt, topped by a sou'wester-type hat. There was the 18th-century culotte in black velvet, soft and fitting that buckled below the knee with a satin strap.

ANNUAL VOLLEYBALL CAMP NOW UNDER WAY

One of the most successful volleyball camps in North America got under way at the Okanagan Easter Seal Camp in Winfield Monday. The first of three sessions, involving players under 16, kicked off two weeks of activity, which will involve more than 350 participants. The second session begins Sunday with high school students taking to the courts until Sept. 1. Following will be the senior group, many of whom are members of Canada's national women's and men's teams. More than 30 instructors will be present during the two weeks, with Vic Lindal, Canada's women's team coach, as head instructor. His assistants are Hiroshi Toyota, head coach in Japan; Moo Park, South Korea's national volleyball coach; and U.S. national coach Val Keller. Following each day's instruction, players will be involved in intrasquad games. The public is welcome to attend. (Courier photo)

Scores Poor At Jr. Open

EDMONTON (CP) — Ontario took the first-round lead in the Canadian junior interprovincial team golf championship Monday, but an 18-year-old from Nova Scotia got the applause. All four Ontario team members were over par for the opening 18 holes, but their 296 gave them a 12-stroke lead over British Columbia which finished one stroke ahead of Nova Scotia.

The Nova Scotians were paced by the sparkling play of John MacLeod of New Glasgow, whose par 71 was the lowest of the 40 players. Alberta and Manitoba were tied for fourth with 310 while Saskatchewan's 316 was two strokes better than New Brunswick. Prince Edward Island came in with a 320 followed by defending-champion Quebec, which soared to 323, and Newfoundland with 338.

MacLeod said he expected to break par today provided he could get more distance off the tee. He had a one-under-par 34 on the front nine but had a one-over 37 on the longer back line.

"Usually my woods are the best part of my game," he said. "But today it was my irons. I hit 15 greens and should be able to do better if I can get my woods going."

MacLeod said the 6,667-yard Windermere Golf and Country Club course is the best he has ever played.

You never get a bad lie on the fairways. Down home you always get bad lies."

SETS PACE
Adam Brown, 18, of Hamilton set the pace for Ontario with 34-38 for a one-over-par 72.

Kelly Roberts, 18, of London and Tom Henry Jr., 18, of Peterborough were not far behind with 73 and 74, respectively. The fourth member of the team, Alan Avery, 18, of Agincourt fired a 75.

Quebec, coached by former National Hockey League player Dollard St. Laurent, was favored going into the 36-hole medal play tournament and its 323 was a shock to spectators.

Daniel Talbot, 18, of Beloeil and Robbie Jackson, 16, of Ile Bizard both were members of last year's winning team and Talbot placed third in the individual championship.

Jackson had 37-41 for a total of 77 while Talbot took 38-42 for 80, including an incredible six-over-par 11 on the 570-yard 11th hole.

Talbot shafted his first shot off the 11th tee into the bush and then put two into a water hazard.

The interprovincial matches will be followed Wednesday by the individual junior championship—a 72-hole event ending Saturday. Slightly more than 235 young golfers had registered, but officials said Monday the field had to be trimmed to 175.

Tee-off time today was 9 a.m. MST. (noon EDT.).

Cat Rookie Gets Clawed

WINONA, Ont. (CP) — Rookie lineman Wayne Philbrick of Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Canadian Football League was charged Monday with possession of 50 pounds of marijuana for the purpose of trafficking.

Saltfleet Township police said the seizure was made at a 32-acre farm in the township just east of Hamilton.

Police discovered the 50 pounds, estimated to be worth $12,000 on the illicit market, in a large storage shed on the property. Of the total seizure, 30 pounds was processed and ready for street sale with the balance still in plant form, police said.

UNDRESS REHEARSAL

LEEDS, England (CP) — Commenting on a new German play which included nudity and love-making, a spokesman for Leeds Playhouse explained: "It was not until the dress rehearsal that we realized there were nude scenes in this production."

LUCKY STRIKE

WYMNINGTON, England (CP) — Firemen struck it rich when they were called to put out a fire in an ancient and abandoned Bedfordshire cottage. They found 249 coins all about 250 years old and worth more than £1,000 in a can under the roof.

Lots Of Action At Rutland

One thing you can say about Monday's Kelowna and District Senior C Softball League game in Rutland, is that there was lots of action—not much else mind you, but lots of action. To put it in one sentence, a total of 11 runs scored by both teams and only one was earned.

The Macs scored five of them in the top of the seventh, and came back to take a 7-4 victory, and tie their current best-of-five series 1-1 with the pennant winning Junior Rovers.

The only legitimate run of the game came in the third inning, with Ron and Art Weninger combining with a single each for a 1-0 lead. The two repeated in the fifth inning, Ron leading off and getting on on a Rutland error, and Art driving him in with his second of three singles.

Andre Blaneil, who held the Rovers to just two hits, had his trouble with support in the bottom of the fifth, as the Mac infield made no less than five errors and helped hand the Rovers four runs. A Rutland error to lead off the seventh inning got things started for the Macs, as Joe Shewchuck then walked Ron Weninger before being relieved by Garry Rieger.

Rieger faced just three batters, walking them all, before Shewchuck returned to the mound. The damage had been done—the Macs put across three runs and went on to score two more.

The third game of the series is slated for Wednesday at Robertson Park in Kelowna at 6:30 p.m., with the fourth game to be played Monday in Rutland.

Calgary Defensive Castoff Goes Against Stamps Today

CALGARY (CP) — Wayne Holm, a castoff Calgary Stampeder quarterback, will be against his former team-mates tonight in the uniform of the British Columbia Lions.

But Holm will not be calling signals behind the offensive line; he will be in the defensive backfield trying to knock down the passes of those who beat him out of a Calgary job.

A third-string quarterback in 1970, he was the victim of a talent glut in the Calgary camp this spring as four men competed for the field-general's spot.

When it became apparent Holm was expendable, he was switched to the defensive squad and was "just beginning to play," said coach Jim Duncan, when he was cut.

It isn't difficult to understand his problems in making the Calgary defensive unit.

In four games, the Stampeder have given up only 21 points, including two touchdowns.

CHANGES FEW
The defence, which was the best in the Western Football Conference last year, is basically unchanged.

It took on an even more familiar look Monday when veteran linebacker Jim Furlong, on the injury reserve list with a bad knee, was reactivated.

Craig McLeod, a rookie Canadian, was cut and then picked up by Winnipeg Blue Bombers. The Calgary squad has no injuries considered handicaps but British Columbia is without the services of quarterback Tom Wilkinson, who has a shoulder injury. Sole job of moving the club was left to Paul Brothers, with the possibility of assistance from Don Moorhead, a former Michigan University star.

ADDS SPEED
The Lions' head coach, Eagle Keys, has moved to add more speed and catching ability to his crew of receivers by picking up Larry Highbaugh and dropping flanker John Love.

Also added, on a five-day trial, are former Edmonton Eskimos quarterback Rusty Clark and linebacker Jim Wright. Clark will not see action tonight.

Calgary has firm control over first place in the WFC with four wins and no losses while B.C. is tied with Saskatchewan Roughriders for second. The Lions have won two and lost two but have a game in hand over the Roughriders.

TALKING BARBERS ATTEND A CLINIC

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Some 40 barbers showed up Monday for Stanford university's football practice but coach John Ralston wasn't insisting on haircuts for his players.

Stanford invited the barbers for a clinic, practice session, barbecue and golf. They were given ticket application forms and the one who sells the most will be Stanford's guest at the Duke game.

"For the next few weeks, there'll be more talk about football in this area than about anything else," said Bob Murphy, Stanford's sports information director and a man who obviously knows his barbers.

"Besides," he added, "they don't always bug you for tickets. Saturday is their biggest work day."

REMEMBER WHEN . . .

Ferenc Puncce, a sturdy Yugoslav, pulled the Davis Cup upset of the year by walloping Jack Bromwich, Australia's top-ranking star, 32 years ago today—in 1939—in four sets. Displaying brilliant tennis, Puncce was watched by only 200 spectators at Philadelphia, in the interzone finals. Australia, however, won the over-all team event.

ROOKIE SIGNS

BOSTON (AP) — Boston Bruins have signed their No. 1 choice in the amateur draft conducted by the National Hockey League last June.

Ron Jones, 20, an outstanding defenceman with Edmonton Oil Kings for five years, agreed Monday to a two-year contract. The 6-foot-2, 185-pound prospect will report to the Bruins' training camp next month at London, Ont.

Expos Keep Streak Going With Eighth Consecutive

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The hottest team in the National League wins even in cold weather.

Montreal's fired-up Expos ignored some gusty breezes and warmed up their Canadian faithful Monday night with a 12-6 victory over Los Angeles that gave them an eight-game winning streak, their best ever.

Elsewhere in the National League Monday, Pittsburgh Pirates belted Atlanta Braves twice 15-4 and 4-3 to open a five-game lead in the East Division, Chicago Cubs dumped Cincinnati Reds 6-3, San Francisco Giants topped New York Mets 5-4, St. Louis Cardinals nipped Houston Astros 3-2 and Philadelphia Phillies dropped San Diego Padres 3-1.

It's great to win eight games in any league," said manager Gene Mauch, "but it's pretty tough to play baseball in this kind of weather."

The Canadian cool agreed with Boots Day and Rusty Staub, who destroyed the Dodgers with nine runs batted in between them.

Day had a two-run single in the second inning and a two-run homer in the fourth as Montreal built an early lead. Staub drove in an early run with a sacrifice fly and then climaxed Montreal's assault with a grand slam homer in the eighth, giving him five RBIs for the night.

Los Angeles, which slipped

... grand slam

7½ games back of San Francisco in the West Division race, grabbed an early 3-0 lead with pitcher Don Sutton driving in two of the runs.

But the Expos bounced back with five runs to grab the lead in the second inning with John Bateman's bases-loaded single chasing the first two across and then Day's single and Staub's sacrifice fly capping the rally.

Day tagged his two-run homer in the fourth and Ron Fairly followed the issue with his bases-loaded blast in the eighth. The Giants took advantage of Montreal's victory over the pursuing Dodgers by beating the Mets and adding another game to their West Division edge.

BONDS PACES GIANTS

Bobby Bonds paced the Giants' victory, hammering a homer and a double to lead the attack. Jerry Johnson came out of the bullpen to save the victory for rookie Don Carrithers, 3-2. It was the 14th save for Johnson, ace of the Giant bullpen. He also had 12 victories.

Bonds' 24th homer helped the Giants to an early 3-0 edge, then he doubled in one run and scored another in the sixth as the lead built to 5-0. The Mets kayoed Carrithers in the bottom of the sixth but Johnson shut off the rally and held New York at bay after that.

Pittsburgh snapped out of an extended slump with its sweep against Atlanta.

Manny Sanguillen drove in two runs with a double and scored two others as the Pirates took the first game. Then Pittsburgh resorted to the long ball with Al Oliver crashing two homers and Roberto Clemente and Bob Robertson adding one apiece in the nightcap.

Oliver's triple and Clemente's 13th homer of the year were the big blows in a five-run third inning that put Pittsburgh in control in the second game.

GAIN HALF A GAME

The sweep enabled Pittsburgh to gain one-half game on pursuing Chicago. The Cubs whipped Cincinnati in a day game with Juan Pizarro's five-hitter doing the job.

Ron Santo ripped three hits and drove in three runs for Chicago and Cleo James also had three hits including a two-run homer.

Bob Gibson pitched a seven-hitter and drove in the winning run with a ninth-inning single as the Cardinals beat Houston, tagging Don Wilson with his first loss since July 18.

Tim McCarver doubled home two runs and Rick Wise pitched Philadelphia past San Diego for his 13th win.

Hard Hits Top Honors

VANCOUVER (CP) — Janet Hall, a hard-hitting 15-year-old blonde from the host Jericho tennis club, took top honors Monday in the Canadian junior closed tennis championships, winning both the 18-and-under and 16-and-under titles.

Miss Hall defeated Mila Zarabova of Montreal 6-4, 6-1 in the 18-and-under group and then beat Jill Tindle of Vancouver 6-3, 7-6 in the 16-and-under section.

The closed championship which ended Monday will be followed by the Canadian junior open at which 64 top Canadian and foreign players will compete this week. In boys' closed competition, the 18-and-under winner was Richard Legendre of Quebec City who beat top-seeded Pat Gamery of Toronto in Sunday's final.

In the 16-and-under category, number-one-seeded Mike McLoughlin of Toronto whipped Greg Halder of Toronto 6-4, 6-3 to win that final.

McLoughlin has a number of wins to his credit this year, including the Ontario Closed and Ontario Open, the Quebec Open and the Glenbriar invitational in Chicago.

SIGN PETITION
KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont. (CP) — A number of horsemen in the area have prepared a petition on swamp fever to be sent to federal Agriculture Minister Bud Olson. The petition calls for compulsory testing for swamp fever by a veterinarian, compulsory isolation of infected animals, prohibition of sale of infected animals, transportation of infected animals, no sale of horses or ponies without a veterinarian's signed statement that the horse does not have swamp fever and government compensation to those who have to destroy horses with the fever.

Jobs don't grow on trees. They grow from the initiative and enterprise of the private sector. That's a plain fact of economic life. And here's another one. The most promising growth opportunity in a decade is staring you right in the face. Right now. If you're ambitious to grow along with Canada, this is the time to start.

In the past year, we've contained inflation more successfully than any other country with a free economy. Economists (both inside and outside the Government) are predicting that Canada is at the beginning of a new period of growth. Things are moving. Companies are expanding. Opportunities are opening up. But we can do much better still.

This is no time for undue pessimism; no time for sitting back and waiting to see what happens. Now (while the growing is good) is a time for building and expanding into new markets and new product areas.

There are thousands of skilled people ready and anxious to help you build your business — and Canada Manpower Centres are just as ready to help you find them. If necessary, they can arrange the training of people you need, and help them relocate to wherever you need them for more productive employment.

Canada Manpower economists and researchers are ready to help in their own field, too — with analyses of market potential in every part of the country, with detailed reports covering the probable effects of technological change in your industry and in your company — with whatever facts and figures you need to take advantage of existing opportunities and to create new ones.

Just how far and how fast Canada will grow in the next few years is very much for you to decide. The stimulus must come from your energy, your enterprise and your confidence in the future of this country. We're ready to grow when you are.

The forecast is favourable. The people are available. And the Government has plans to help with all kinds of business expansion programmes.

POLICE GET COMPLAINT
A provincial police spokesman said the Rimouski detachment, 100 miles west of the reserve, received a complaint from school principal Irene Pettigrew that young Indians were throwing rocks through windows shortly before the first shooting took place.

"How many there were we weren't told but we sent officers to keep the peace," he said.

Nine men were sent from the Rimouski detachment when the original trouble broke out, and 10 more joined them the next day, as well as provincial police officers from neighboring posts, the spokesman said.

Officers maintained peace in the area and all returned to their respective detachments Monday.

The spokesman declined to speculate on the varying accounts of the incident.

RESTIGOUCHE, QUE. (CP) - Relative calm returned to this Indian reserve Monday but some confusion remained as to the circumstances surrounding the shooting of two young Indians during the weekend.

The Indians, Robert Barnaby, 29, of Restigouche and Golder Wayne of Pembroke, Ont., were wounded following reports of a rock-throwing attack by Indians from the Micmac reserve on an elementary school.

A school guard was arrested in connection with the incident and was to appear in court today.

The school is attended by non-Indian students, while the reserve Indians attend a non-denominational school in nearby Campbellton, N.B.

Micmac Chief William Wyss said one of the two Indians "was shot in the back without warning."

In a statement Monday, he said that no Indians from the reserve attempted to enter or burn the school.

SAT ON STEPS
He said that the Wayne youth was shot while sitting on the school steps. He quoted the youth as saying:

"I was walking on the road and decided to sit on the steps and was joined by two other boys when, all of a sudden, we heard a crash of glass shatter."

He said the boy later went to a church and it was there that he discovered he was bleeding.

The chief said later that Barnaby was shot about 30 minutes later when he went to the school to see if his brother was near the building.

A provincial police spokesman said the Rimouski detachment, 100 miles west of the reserve, received a complaint from school principal Irene Pettigrew that young Indians were throwing rocks through windows shortly before the first shooting took place.

"How many there were we weren't told but we sent officers to keep the peace," he said.

Officers maintained peace in the area and all returned to their respective detachments Monday.

The spokesman declined to speculate on the varying accounts of the incident.

Another three to five minutes after that he heard a transmission that constable Orville Nickel was involved in the collision. Nickel, off-duty, was with a girl-friend when the accident occurred.

A few minutes later there was a request for an ambulance and in another five minutes a call for an inhalator.

Robson said about half an hour after the accident he heard one of the police cars at the scene asking for the Haney coroner who was a customer of his answering service.

"In anticipation of the call from police, I called the coroner and advised him of the accident."

"I kept waiting for it (the police call) and waiting for it. The call finally came about eight to 10 minutes later," he said.

The jury spent the morning visiting the accident scene. The inquest continues.

Announce New Healing Substance: Shrinks Piles
Exclusive healing substance prevents shrink hemorrhoids and repair damaged tissue.

A renowned research institute has found a unique healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids painlessly. It relieves itching and discomfort in minutes and speeds up healing of the injured, inflamed tissue.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most important of all—results were so thorough that this improvement was maintained over a period of many months.

This was accomplished with a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) which quickly helps heal injured cells and stimulates growth of new tissue.

Now Bio-Dyne is offered in ointment and suppository form called Preparation H. Ask for it at all drug stores. Satisfaction or your money refunded.

RESTIGOUCHE, QUE. (CP) - Sixth-formers in more than half British Columbia's public schools and in one-third of state grammar schools are being taught about computers, a survey disclosed after headmasters from 1,200 schools had been questioned by computer management consultants.

"The advance was particularly marked in the independent sector where 53 per cent of headmasters confirmed their use of practical programming," the survey stated.

Trade War 'Unlikely'

BOSS (Reuter). Economics that the American example Minister Karl Schiller of West could not be followed by other Germany has dismissed any suggestion that a trade war might break out between Europe and the United States as a result of U.S. President Nixon's economic measures.

The floating of the U.S. dollar has said in an interview published today in the news magazine. Der Spiegel, would strengthen European currencies and help to stabilize prices by warding off "international inflation."

But we can't help but feel that people were reported in some of the press and in the press of the fact, he said, "It was to be hoped evacuated."

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Baby No Rag Doll To Be Played With

By George C. Thosteson, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I wish you would answer this to help some young parents. Their baby is only a few weeks old. They pitch it up in the air (holding on, of course), tickle its feet, or grab at him while he is sleeping. All this just to see him jump, throw up his arms, and his little chin quivers. I fail to see anything amusing about this.

Could this cause stuttering or some emotional problem later in life?—Mrs. W.T.

An infant isn't a rag doll, to be played with like that. Babies need cuddling, and they need gentle play, but as you describe what's going on, these parents are not playing with the baby for the baby's sake. They are teasing, scaring, and annoying him for the sake of seeing his reaction to it.

I doubt if it is the sort of thing that will cause stuttering, but such antics certainly can cause fears, anxiety, and other emotional damage later on. If parents will stop and think for two minutes, maybe they'll see the light. I hope so.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I would like to know what "severe malabsorption syndrome" is. F.M.

It means the inability to absorb certain types of food which, not surprisingly, leads to digestive symptoms.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a retracted nipple but can feel no lump, no discomfort, other than itching at times. Condition has persisted about one year. Can this become serious?—X.

Yes, it can. When a nipple, previously normal, inverts, it can be a danger sign, even though there is no pain or no lump. It may be innocent, but again it may not, and I urge you to have it examined without delay.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: People I know insist the reason teen-age boys break out with acne on their face or back is because they lack and need sexual relief.

When my son broke out, one relative even said: "It will clear up when he marries." I say this is an old wives' tale and a lot of hogwash. But when I tell people that acne is caused by glandular changes in the body and a difference of oil output of the skin, I am not believed. —Mrs. D.F.

You are quite right, but I've long since given up hope of changing the mind of anyone who is thoroughly wedded to some old wheeze or other.

Another long-lived bit of hogwash is that acne is caused by masturbation, which is just about the opposite of what you've been told—and equally incorrect.

The one thing that is true is that a young son's complexion probably will clear up about the time he marries—depending on when he marries. It will probably clear up about the same time if he doesn't marry too.

At about the usual marriage age, the glandular system usually settles down. The "acne age" is a trying one for youngsters and parents alike, but there's nothing to be gained by circulating false folklore as an "explanation."

The bidding:
1 ♠ 2 ♠ 3 ♠ 4 ♠
Pass 3 ♠ Pass 4 ♠
Pass 5 ♠

Opening lead—two of spades.

Let's say you get to five diamonds on the bidding shown and West leads a spade. East wins with the ace, felling your king, and returns a spade, leaving you with the problem of how to play the hand to the best advantage.

The outlook is certainly not promising, for it appears that you'll eventually have to lose a heart and a club to go down.

one. In theory there is even a chance of losing a trump trick, but that possibility seems remote, since East almost surely had the king of diamonds for his opening bid.

However, you can't just sit there and take a licking without making an effort for the contract, so you start to think in terms of hands that opponents might have that would give you a chance.

On the bidding there is no chance of West's having the ace of clubs, but there is some chance of his having the J-10. Accordingly, you play for this possibility.

You discard a heart on the spade return at trick two and lead the ten of diamonds from dummy at trick three. When it holds, you continue with a trump to the ace and lead a club towards dummy.

If West follows low, you play the nine, hoping it will force out the ace. As it happens, this long shot comes through and you are rewarded for having made a correct assumption on how the cards had to be divided for you to make the contract.

Note that if the nine lost to the ten or jack, you would still go down only one trick. You would force out the ace of clubs later on and in that way avoid a heart loser.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR WEDNESDAY
March 21 to April 20 (Aries)

—Make no hasty decisions where finances are concerned. All risks out!

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)

News of an old friend's new romance makes you very happy.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)

Be careful that social activities don't flatten your wallet in the P.M.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)

Unexpected news may cause you to take a sudden trip.

July 24 to Aug. 23 (Leo)

Your prestige enhanced. Superiors are delighted with your original ideas.

Aug. 24 to Sept. 23 (Virgo)

Use care now. Minor disputes could result in ugly quarrels if you permit.

Sept. 24 to Oct. 23 (Libra)

Display good sportsmanship. Your approach to others important now.

Oct. 24 to Nov. 22 (Scorpio)

Domestic matters may cause confusion in the A.M. but things settle down later.

Nov. 23 to Dec. 21 (Sagittarius)

Business interests can be advanced through mid-day contacts.

Dec. 22 to Jan. 20 (Capricorn)

—You get some bright new ideas from seeing new places, new faces.

Jan. 21 to Feb. 19 (Aquarius)

—Don't scatter energies. You may incline to take on more than you can handle.

Feb. 20 to March 20 (Pisces)

—In making agreements, be alert to hidden flaws, old traps in new guise.

Astropeaks—Mixed influences make this a day in which all would do well to keep on their toes. There will be no need for anxiety but, in general, aspects are somewhat adverse toward fiscal interests—especially during the morning hours. Those born under some Signs will also have to use care in personal relationships, since tendencies to "fly off the handle" could result in serious misunderstandings. Toward evening, however, stellar influences brighten and both domestic and social interests should flourish. On the whole, the day will favor mostly the imaginative and optimistic.

Anglo-Canadian Relations To Be Subject Of U.K. Study

LONDON (CP). Whether Anglo-Canadian relations are withering on the vine—and how to water the plant—are subjects to be given a quiet, private airing at a special conference here.

Brainchild of John Holmes of Toronto, head of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs, the weekend gathering Sept. 3-5 is deemed by its sponsors as the first of its kind in post-war years.

Former prime minister Lester Pearson and Britain's 4th prime minister, Sir Harold Wilson, will be among the four foreign participants. Included will be academics, government officials and some military experts.

London merchant banker, Ed Pearson and British 4th prime minister, Sir Harold Wilson, will be among the four foreign participants. Included will be academics, government officials and some military experts.

These latter countries have a definite aptitude in different spheres and beset by different interests and values.

Buchan doesn't think Canada and Britain are going the same way, though he is concerned by the direction of diverging interests in the press of the fact, he said, "It was to be hoped evacuated."

range from "the past in the present" "policies and perceptions." The Nutfield Foundation will pick up weekend costs.

Buchan, now commandant of the Royal College of Defence Studies and a wartime Canadian Army officer, is warmly attached to the idea of continuing close Anglo-Canadian relations. But he feels that a somewhat detached view should be taken, to analyse problems between the two countries, and decide where their things have gone wrong.

RUTLAND REGATTA

Improvement Continues For Okanagan Swimmers

Seventy-two of 78 records lasted but one year, as 350 Okanagan competitors at the second annual Rutland Regatta swim meet continued to show their vast improvement in the pool.

Showing up more than any other was Salmon Arm's boy sensation, Don Jameson, who took five firsts, four individual and another in the boys' 13 and 14 medley relay.

Kelowna Marion Wahl won all five events she entered in the girls' 15 and 16 age class, while Sheryl Ramsell made a clean sweep in the nine and 10-year-old age class, with four victories.

Another Ogopogo Swim Club standout was Syd Postma, with four first place finishes in five 15 and 16 age class events.

Just a weekend before, 63 of 72 records were broken at the B.C. Summer Swimming Association's Okanagan - Interior championships held at Ogopogo Pool in Kelowna.

The Rutland meet was the final before Okanagan swimmers take part in the BCSSA meet in Vancouver Friday and Saturday.
